

Statement of participation

Guest user

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Heritage case studies: Scotland

This 5-hour free course explored how heritage sites have helped to forge Scottish national identity and history.

Issue date: 14 March 2022

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification. This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/history-the-arts/history/heritage-case-studies-scotland/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: A180_1

Heritage case studies: Scotland

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/history-the-arts/history/heritage-case-studies-scotland/content-section-0>

Course summary

The heritage traditions of Scotland are unique in comparison to the rest of Britain. This free course, Heritage case studies: Scotland, uses two case studies to demonstrate how heritage sites have helped to forge the Scottish national identity and history.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- understand the significant issues affecting heritage
- engage effectively in debates about heritage issues in Scotland.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Case studies

Section 2

Battlefields as heritage sites

Section 3

Old and New Towns of Edinburgh