OpenLearn | Free learning from The Open University

The Open University

Statement of participation

Guest user

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

The interplay between leading and learning

This 8-hour free course explored leadership and learning, and the complex set of interactions between those involved.

Issue date: 15 March 2022

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:
https://www.open.edu/openlearn/education-development/the-interplay-between-leading-and-learning/content-section-0

COURSE CODE: E855_1

OpenLearn | Free learning from The Open University

The Open University

The interplay between leading and learning

https://www.open.edu/openlearn/education-development/the-interplay-between-leading-and-learning/content-section-0

Course summary

Please note: As part of a review of content, this course will be deleted from OpenLearn on Sunday 5th of September 2021.Leadership in learning contexts is not confined to those who have it as part of their job title. Everyone has opportunities for leading - be it of learners, of colleagues in curriculum or project development, or more formally. Everyone also has the opportunity for learning. This free course, The interplay between leading and learning, explores the complex set of interactions between those involved for example, teachers and pupils, trainers and trainees, youth workers and young people.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- evaluate the different ways in which leadership is demonstrated in educational contexts
- understand the differences between leadership that comes from an appointed position and that which comes with a role
- critically reflect on leadership, learning and the interplay between them
- understand that there are different types of leadership
- discuss the concept of ‘leadership of learning’.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Thinking about the interplay of leading and learning

Section 2

A learning community

Section 3

Learning contexts

Section 4

Leadership dimensions

Section 5

Types of leadership