This was really launching a bit further into community to provide economic activity. Because these units at Cariocca Enterprise were for business people. And because of the size of the units and the way the sizes ranged, it meant that an individual businessman could afford to rent the accommodation.

It was a very important contribution to the economic life of the community. Because if you have an enterprise like that, it means you can have different sized units. And it could provide for a starter, or it could provide for an already established business looking for good quarters.
