

Kinloch Ainort

A company of mountains, an upthrust of mountains a great garth of growing mountains a concourse of summits, of knolls, of hills coming on with a fearsome roaring.

A rising of glens, of gloomy corries, a lying down in the antlered bellowing;
a stretching of green nooks, of brook mazes, prattling in the age-old mid-winter.

A cavalry of mountains, horse-riding summits, a streaming head long haste of foam, a slipperiness of smooth flat rocks, small-bellied bare summits, flat-rock snoring of high mountains.

A surge-belt of hill-tops, impetuous thigh of peaks, the murmuring bareness of marching turrets, green flanks of Mosgary, crumbling storm-flanks, barbarous pinnacles of high moorlands.
