

I think the main the major success and what we deem as successes can we can, we can identify a player and help and support the FA, in getting that getting the player the documents is sometimes the hardest thing.

So I say from from me as the first one before he was born, was born. Going over there and we're playing for Barbados success. So Sebastian success.

So anytime we get a player over there, it is a success story. And we've been fortunate to, to link the FA with a couple of we've a couple of different players that have gone on to represent the FA.

Yeah, play international football from from men's and women's. So they're a source of that. That's our success stories is a big scope to widen the international heritage agency by connecting coaches and programmes and saying, Well, yes, if we're good enough, and if they are qualified, then they want the job yet they would like to apply, like anybody else would.

But if it's mean, can we come back and do maybe a coaching clinic and with some of the grassroots coaches or with some of the kids and the sessions, then it's something that I think a lot of coaches will be on. I know a lot of coaches that go to America to do it. And then they go to America and get paid.

And they'll be like, I'll go good. I'll go Grenada and coach for free. So it's a win win because go see family, go do some coaching. You know who else coaching in the Sun!! Yeah, who wouldn't want to do that?
