

Getting Started

Windows

Once you have installed Jamovi onto your device, you can locate and open Jamovi using three simple steps:

1. Press the Windows key on your keyboard (the one with the Windows icon on it usually found just to the left of the space bar, between the Ctrl and Alt keys).
2. In the search box, start typing 'jamovi'. Windows should then locate Jamovi.
3. Click on Jamovi to open the program.

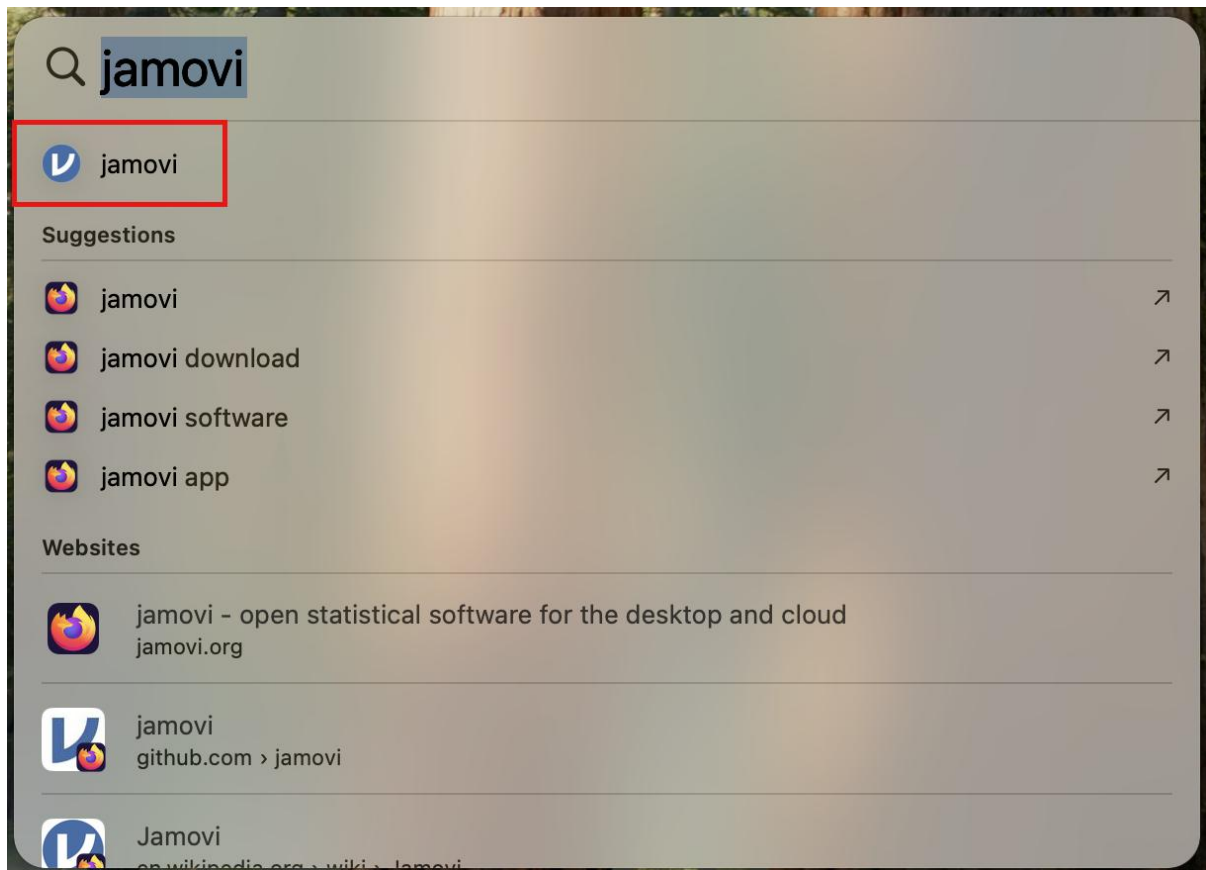

Alternatively, you can use your mouse to click on the Windows icon in the bottom left corner of your screen on your taskbar, then find and open Jamovi from your Programs list in the same way you would open other programs like Word, Excel, etc.

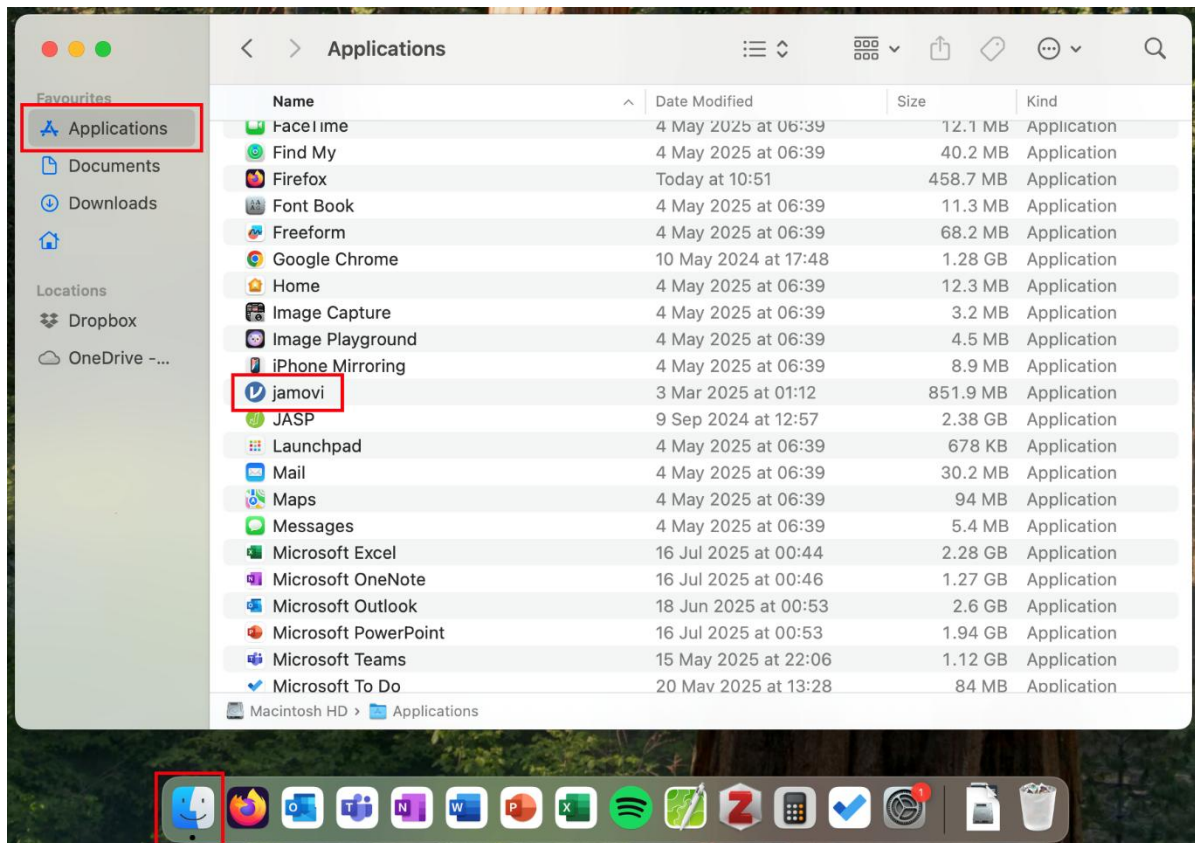

Remember you may have a different version of Jamovi compared to the one in the images shown here. However, the process to opening Jamovi remains the same.

Mac

The easiest way to open Jamovi on a Mac is to press the Command (⌘) button and space bar at the same time. This will open the search bar. Then type Jamovi, and select the top result that appears.

Alternatively, you can open Finder, choose your Applications folder, and scroll down to select Jamovi.

Jamovi cloud

If you are unable to install jamovi on your own device, it is possible to access a version of the software online via Jamovi Cloud.

To do this, go to <https://www.jamovi.org/cloud.html> in your web browser.

Please note that the free version of Jamovi Cloud has various limitations, including access queues during busy times. The tutorials we provide for Jamovi should mostly work with Jamovi Cloud, but please note that we have no control over Jamovi Cloud and are unable to provide support for it; we therefore strongly recommend that you install Jamovi, which is free software, on your Windows or Mac computer.