

Tracing paper

Start by drawing an angle.

Then trace the angle you have drawn.

The tracing of the angle can be translated along one of the lines so that the other lines remain parallel.

This demonstrates that corresponding angles are equal.

Use tracing paper to confirm some other facts about angles.

Using tracing paper does more than confirming isolated facts.

It provides an image for the student that might continue to be beneficial.