

Statement of participation

Guest user

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Managing projects through people

This 8-hour free course explored the importance of managing people for the success of a project and ways in which to maximise their contribution.

Issue date: 14 March 2022

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/money-business/business-strategy-studies/managing-projects-through-people/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: B713_3

Managing projects through people

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/money-business/business-strategy-studies/managing-projects-through-people/content-section-0>

Course summary

Please note: this course will be closing on 11 May 2022. After this date, you will no longer be able to study the course but if you've already gained your certificate this will continue to display in your learner profile. The importance of managing people for the success of a project cannot be underestimated. This free course, Managing projects through people, identifies the groups and individuals whose appropriate involvement in a project is important for its success, and considers the ways in which their contribution might be maximised.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- identify why managing people is an essential part of project management
- establish which people and groups of people are important for the success of a project and why
- explain what issues are at stake in managing them
- evaluate how particular groups of people involved in a project might best be handled
- recognise which skills are most important for managing people in projects.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Why people management matters to the successful delivery of projects

Section 2

Role of the project manager

Section 3

Identifying and involving stakeholders in a project

Section 4

Project team

Section 5

Dealing with senior management

Section 6

Political behaviour

Section 7

Building relationships across the organisation

Section 8

Satisfying the client and end user